Sadness is not compatible with our Christian identity... Pope Francis stressed this during his daily morning Mass on May 28th

The Holy Spirit, Francis reminded, makes the burdens of life, light, with its support and closeness. Hence, "sadness is not a Christian attitude," he said. It is possible, the Holy Father underscored, to overcome the difficulties of life with the support and closeness of the Holy Spirit. Recalling when Jesus acknowledges the grief and sadness of his disciples at his leaving, Francis reminded: "Sadness is not a Christian attitude."

"But how can one not be sad?" he admitted, noting: "to counter sadness, we pray to the Lord to keep the renewed youth of the spirit within us." The Holy Spirit, the Pope said, ensures that we continue to be renewed and youthful in our faith.

The Holy Spirit, Pope Francis explained, gives us the capacity to carry our crosses. He reflected on the reading from the Acts of the Apostles that tells of how Paul and Silas, who had been stripped, beaten, chained and imprisoned, sang hymns to God. The Holy Spirit, he said, renews everything. The Holy Spirit accompanies us in life and sustains us. And calling the Spirit the 'Paraclete', the Pope explained the meaning of this "strange" word – which – he said, refers to "He who is near me and supports me so that I don't fall, so I keep my spirit youthful".

"A Christian is always young," the Pope continued, and when the heart of a Christian begins to age, so does his Christian vocation. "Either you are young in heart and soul, or you are not fully Christian" he said. Even if we are sinners, Pope Francis stressed, the Holy Spirit helps us to repent and look ahead: "speak to the Spirit who will give you support and restore your youthfulness". Sin, on the other hand, he said ages one: "the soul ages, everything ages".

In life there are difficult moments, but in these moments "we feel that the Spirit helps us to move forward (...) and to overcome difficulties. Even martyrdom," he said.

Pope Francis concluded, giving the following invitation: "Let us ask the Lord not to lose this renewed youthfulness, not to be Christians who have retired and have lost their joy." "A Christian never retires, a Christian lives because he is young – when he is a true Christian," he said.
